EASY READ!By Christiana LeighRead this book for my advertising class and I have to say as a text book in a class was so easy to get through. The language was easy to understand they used a lot of relatable examples and even quoted from the famous series Mad Men (that takes about advertising in the 60's). Great Book! I still have it and refer to it often!!Pros:Easy to readrelatable materialvery informativeConsI couldn't find any0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great buy, awesome readBy Stan The ManPure gold. Been in advertising for 8 years but still learnt so much!!!Every body in advertising should have a copy on their desk, its just so refreshing as a reference too.Great book, one of my best buys in a long long time0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Advertising Creative is the first 'postdigital' creative strategy and copywriting textbook in which digital technology is woven throughout every chapter. The book gets right to the point of advertising by stressing key principles and practical information students and working professionals can use to communicate effectively in this postdigital age. Drawing on personal experience as award-winning experts in creative advertising, Tom Altstiel and Jean Grow offer real-world insights on cutting-edge topics, including global, social media, business-to-business, in-house, and small agency advertising. In this Fourth Edition, Altstiel and Grow take a deeper dive into the exploration of digital technology and its implications for the industry, as they expose the pervasive changes experienced across the global advertising landscape. Their most important revelation of all is the identification of the three qualities that will define the future leaders of this industry: Be a risk taker. Understand technology. Live for ideas.
