

European Financial Markets and Institutions

Jakob de Haan, Sander Oosterloo, Dirk Schoenmaker
DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

 Download

 Read Online

#3316437 in eBooks 2009-01-15 2009-01-15 File Name: B007NW87VW | File size: 79.Mb

Jakob de Haan, Sander Oosterloo, Dirk Schoenmaker : European Financial Markets and Institutions before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised European Financial Markets and Institutions:

Written for undergraduate and graduate students of finance, economics and business, this textbook provides a fresh analysis of the European financial system. Combining theory, empirical data and policy, it examines and explains financial markets, financial infrastructures, financial institutions, and challenges in the domain of financial supervision and competition policy. Key features: bull; Designed specifically for courses on European financial integration bull; Clear signposting and presentation of text with learning objectives, boxes for key concepts and theories, chapter overviews and suggestions for further reading bull; Broad coverage of European financial system ndash; markets, infrastructure and institutions bull; Explains the ongoing process of financial integration, in particular the impact of the euro bull; Examines financial systems of new member states bull; Uses up-to-date European data throughout A companion website will be available with exercises and freely downloadable solutions.

'A quarter of a century ago, the European financial system consisted of segmented national markets and institutions. The process of creating a single unified system has made considerable progress but still has some way to go. This book provides an excellent account of why this process is important, the current situation, and how it will proceed in the future. It is very well suited for its target audience of advanced undergraduates and Masters students and will be useful to all those interested in the topic. I highly recommend it.' Franklin Allen, Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania'Now that an integrated European banking and financial system has become established, there is a need for a book to describe and to analyse its working. The authors, who have great experience in the practical, regulatory and academic aspects of their subject, do this admirably, clearly and succinctly. This will be an invaluable textbook for all students of European banking and finance.' Charles Goodhart, London School of EconomicsAbout the AuthorJakob de Haan is Professor of Political Economy at the University of Groningen. He is also Scientific Director of SOM, the graduate school and research institute of the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Groningen.Sander Oosterloo is Senior Policy Advisor at the Netherlands Ministry of Finance. He received his PhD from the University of Groningen and is affiliated with its Faculty of Economics and Business.Dirk Schoenmaker is Professor of Finance, Banking and Insurance at the VU University Amsterdam. He is also Dean of the Duisenberg School of Finance at Amsterdam. Before that, he was Deputy Director of Financial Markets Policy at the Netherlands Ministry of Finance.