Jim Remley : Real Estate Presentations That Make Millions before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Real Estate Presentations That Make Millions:

For real estate professionals, a great presentation is often what makes the difference when it comes to gaining a client or closing a sale. "Real Estate Presentations That Make Millions" gives readers the tools and advice they need to create and deliver the kind of powerful presentations that win important listings and show off property to greatest effect. This is an indispensable book for agents and brokers who want to increase their business and earnings, even in a heartlessly competitive market.
