Mark Beeson : Reconfiguring East Asia: Regional Institutions and Organizations After the Crisis before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Reconfiguring East Asia: Regional Institutions and Organizations After the Crisis:

Focuses both on specific regional organizations like ASEAN, The Asian Development Bank and APEC, as well as on key institutions such as East Asian legal systems, the media, organized labour, Asian business systems, and the developmental state.

'It serves as an ideal text not only for Asia-Pacific regional studies but for those analysts who seek a deeper understanding of globalisation and of competing forms of capitalist political and economic regulation.' - Australian Journal of International Affairs
About the Author Mark Beeson is Senior Lecturer in the School of Asian and International Studies, Griffith University. His research interests are centred on the way globalisation has affected the political economy of the broadly conceived Asia-Pacific region.
