Making or planning retirement investment? One of the most important considerations is to make decisions based on facts and results. The author has found a successful method in building, maintaining and securing retirement wealth and prosperity: * Invest in traditional Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA). * Mutual fund investments have gains in good times. * Mutual funds investments have minimal losses in bad times. * All distribution is reinvested. * Portfolio is diversified. * Investments are made on committed plan. * Monitor investment results daily, monthly and yearly (trends). * Rollover unsatisfactory investments. * Determine investments long-term performance. Retirement Investments 101: Mutual Funds provides Detailed information on the above methodology. There are in-depth reports of 35 mutual funds and financial categories that are diversified allocations. You can use the ticker symbol of each mutual to monitor the current returns and performances. In addition, if you go to www.largedividends.com/performance.html You will see the long time performance of each of these my mutual funds.
